

Department of Home Science

Session 2023-2024

Program outcomes:

1. Understand the nutritional aspects of food and transforming normal nutrition into therapeutic nutrition.
2. Enhancing skills and knowledge associated with preparation, cooking, preservation of food.
3. Acquire knowledge and management of human and non-human resources for achieving aims and goals of family.
4. Learn manufacturing techniques of making fibers, yarns and fabrics and art of dyeing, printing, finishing involved in textiles.
5. Develop skills of constructing clothes and add aesthetic values to dresses
6. Study human development by understanding the role and importance of various life stages.
7. Understand various psychological aspects related to human mind.
8. Acknowledging the importance of health and hygiene in living disease free life.
9. Developing skills for mother craft and child care.
10. Inculcating scientific outlook in household activities and improve ways of working in homes.

